Technical Experience

- Virtual Vending Machine
 - A command-line program using C# that allows a user to deposit money, display a menu of products, purchase items, and return virtual change. The user's transactions were logged in a separate csv file, and several test methods were made to catch potential bugs in the program.
- Mock Money Transfer Application
 - An API similar to Venmo using C#, SQL, ASP.NET, and RESTFUL design. The application manages user accounts, balances, and fund transfers to other users. Balances and transfers are accounted for in SQL, and server controllers and client services manage the data between the two.
- Fantasy Basketball Application
 - An API program that mimics fantasy team analyzers using C#, SQL, ASP.NET, and RESTFUL design. Using SQL data extracted from an NBA database, users can input their fantasy players and get an analysis on which statistical categories their team has an edge.
